Spotlight on Education!
On Friday, March 17, students from the UF College of Medicine class of 2017 will discover where they will spend the next four years - or more - of their medical careers.

Some of the students’ friends and family (plus faculty, staff and alumni) are unable to share in the excitement. That is why we will bring The Gator Nation to them on Match Day. Those interested can watch the event live* without leaving their computers on Match Day, Friday, March 17. The video feed will begin at 11:45 a.m.

Access the live stream.

Stay on top of live updates and join the discussion on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram using #UFMatch and #Match2017.

Take part in one of the few traditions shared by every medical school in the country and join students from the class of 2017 as they embark on the next chapter of their lives.

UF College of Medicine Match Day Program
Friday, March 17
Reitz Union Grand Ballroom
Noon to 2 p.m. - Announcement of Matches

It’s time for 352Creates! You’re invited to join in two days of participatory art-making on Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25, throughout our 352 area code, sponsored by presenting partners UF Health Arts in Medicine Programs and the City of Gainesville.

"Pop-up" style art activities will help promote health and community engagement in unexpected ways and locations. In its second year, 352Creates demonstrates that creativity can be fun for everyone.

“We welcome opportunities to engage our communities in health-promoting activities that improve quality of life. 352Creates allows us to work with local partners to bring healing, interactive arts to people throughout north central Florida," said Thomas A. Pearson, M.D., Ph.D., UF Health executive vice president for research and education. "We're building on last year's success to show that everyone can participate and have fun for their health."

- Create in Place on Friday March 24 - Local cultural groups, artists, community agencies, businesses and individuals can encourage creativity at home and in the workplace. Co-workers, students and neighbors can get together and enjoy a hands-on creative project. You don't have to be an artist to have fun making art!

- Create in Community on Saturday March 25 - Join the 352 community at Depot Park (200 SE Depot Ave., Gainesville, FL 32601) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to engage in a variety of hands-on art-making, performance and other activities. The events are free and open to the public. You can also host an event on Saturday.

Visit the website 352creates.com to learn more and follow on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram - look for the hashtag #352Creates.

Faculty Opportunity!

Southeastern Conference (SEC) Visiting Faculty Travel Grant Program

- Sponsor: Southeastern Conference Academic Consortium
- Award Amount: up to $2,500
- Internal Deadline: May 26, 2017
- Eligibility: Faculty
The Southeastern Conference (SEC) Visiting Faculty Travel Grant Program is intended to enhance faculty collaboration that stimulates scholarly initiatives between SEC universities. This initiative gives faculty from one SEC university the opportunity to travel to another SEC campus to: exchange ideas; develop grant proposals; conduct research; consult with faculty and/or students; offer lectures or symposia; or engage in whatever activities are agreeable to the visitor and host unit.

The University of Florida can select faculty members to receive 2017-2018 grants up to $2,500 each. Travel grant funds may not be used for non-travel-related expenses (e.g., books, supplies, computer software, honoraria, food for other than traveler, etc.), and it is not permissible to use funds for support/research staff.

Any use of the funds should be directly for the faculty member with the intent of lessening the financial burden of personal accommodations in travel (e.g., travel, lodging, per diem, etc.). Travel dates for these visits must be between August 1, 2017 and July 16, 2018.

The faculty member will contact a host unit that he or she wishes to visit to determine that unit's receptivity and availability. The selected faculty members will be responsible for arranging coverage of their duties during their absence. This requires Department Chair approval. After the visit, the faculty member will submit a brief report, the outcomes of the visit. This report is sent to his or her Department Chair and then forwarded to the Provost's Office.

Note that two COM faculty were among the award winners for 2016:

- James R. Clugston, COM, Community Health & Family Med, Host: University of Georgia
- Katherine M. Edenfield, COM, Community Health and Family Med, Host: University of Georgia

Introduction to REDCap

This lecture and demonstration provides a basic overview of the Research Electronic Data Capture (REDCap) system; how REDCap can speed time to database creation and deployment; best practices; and provides a general overview of its many powerful data collection and management features. This course is directed towards new users or those with little experience in using REDCap. NOTE: These course sections cover the same material as previous sections so new attendees will be given priority.

Dates and Times:
03/21/2017: 11:00 am-12:30 pm

Location: AHC C3-13 (Communicore)

Link to register: myTraining website

Training Room Use Policies, Calendars, and Directions can be found here: http://training.health.ufl.edu/roomhelp.aspx

If you need to cancel or have trouble registering, please send an email to training@health.ufl.edu or call (352) 273-5051.

HSC Library Spring Workshops

The Health Science Center Library will offer the following workshops this term, independent of registered coursework and open to all.

Please register at least 24 hours in advance by clicking on the desired workshop link below or at:
Drug Information: Beyond UF Resources

Monday, April 3, 11am-12pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A

What drug resources will you be able to access when you are no longer affiliated with UF? When you leave UF you will lose access to our paid resources, so you will need alternative sources. This session will go over the resources listed on the pharmacy LibGuide's After Graduation page. We will discuss some of the sites and their usefulness, including some sites that will lead you to other resources. The emphasis is on free sites and resources.

Note: This room has videoconference capabilities. Please contact the instructor at rjesano@ufl.edu with your IP address well in advance if you want to video conference to your site, so that we can set up videoconferencing. You will need to make your room arrangements at your site.

Introduction to CINAHL

Monday, April 3, 1pm-2pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3

Looking for an introduction to the premier database of nursing and allied health literature? This class introduces you to basic and advanced search options; performing more accurate searches using CINAHL headings; using limits to narrow and refine your search; printing, emailing, and exporting your citations; creating a personal account to store your citations; and finding full-text articles.

Medical Terminology

Part 2: Tuesday, March 21, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A

Part 3: Tuesday, March 28, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A

Basics of medical terminology. Key concepts and word building, as well as the basics of body structure, including cells, tissues, organs and body planes will be covered. Parts 1, 2 and 3 make up a single 6-hour course. Attendees should plan to attend all three sessions in order to complete the training.

PubMed

Thursday, March 23, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3

This class will take you step-by-step through effective literature search and save techniques-starting smartly, limiting efficiently without losing "good stuff", searching for specific info (authors, types of publications, specific journals) and refining your search. Depending on participant interests/needs and time, we may also cover setting up email alerts, transferring to bibliographic software like RefWorks or EndNote, filtering for evidence-based studies, building collections within PubMed or other functions within PubMed.

Spring 2017 Q Report

Biomedical research scientists face numerous challenges early in their career. This seminar series is designed to provide practical advice for PhD and dual degree scientists who will be managing and leading research teams of their own. The target audience is postdoctoral research trainees, advanced graduate students, and junior faculty. These seminars are designed to complement the book “Making the Right Moves: A Practical Guide to Scientific Management for Postdocs and New Faculty”, which is available...
