"Collaborative Innovations in Graduate Medical Education"
Celebration of Research Medical Student Award Recipients

The College of Medicine Celebration of Research Poster Event was held on Monday, February 22, 2016 at the O'Connell Center. Medical students presented 86 posters at the event, and all did an outstanding job!

After careful consideration, a committee of 22 judges selected the following posters as the most outstanding based on the overall presentation, the data content and the student's knowledge of the data. Congratulations!

1. The Alpha Omega Alpha Award in the amount of $1000:
   ²Martin Wegman (MD/PhD), "Differences in drug relapse rates between alternative rehabilitation programs in Malaysia" - Mentor, Frederick Altice

2. The Lawrence M. Goodman Trust Award in the amount of $500:
   ²Hassan Ashraf, (Class of 2018) "Decellularized embryonic hearts to investigate congenital heart disease" - Mentor, Hideko Kasahara

3. The Lawrence M. Goodman Trust Award in the amount of $400:
   ²James Fleming, (Class of 2018), "AAV9 gene transfer rescued heart failure of cardiac myosin light chain kinase knockout mice" - Mentor, Hideko Kasahara

4. The Lawrence M. Goodman Trust Award in the amount of $300:  (tied for 4th place, both recipients will receive the $300 prize)
   ²Cris Min, (Class of 2018), "Significant impact of fibroproliferative microenvironments in orthopaedic combat blast induced heterotopic ossification" - Mentor, Youngmi Ji
   ²Kelly Costopoulos, (Class of 2018), "Retrospective assessment of coarctation of aorta repair in a tertiary pediatric cardiac center" - Mentor, Mark Bleiweis

We also had four semi-finalists we would also like to recognize. We have not ranked the semi-finalists.

zAnastasiya Bagrova, Class of 2018, "Inappropriate use of myocardial perfusion imaging: Radiology vs.
Matthew Earle, Class of 2018, "Agar ultrasound phantoms for low-cost training without refrigeration"
Monica Hill, Class of 2018, "Exploring career ambivalence in US medical students"
Reesa Lendry, Class of 2018, "Correlating retinal hemorrhages to abuse in children admitted with suspicion of non-accidental trauma"

On Friday, March 18, students from the UF College of Medicine class of 2016 will discover where they will spend the next four years - or more - of their medical careers.

Stay on top of live updates and join the discussion on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram using #UFMatch and #Match2016. New this year: For a firsthand look at Match Day from a fellow fourth-year student’s perspective, follow along with Sey Park on the University of Florida Snapchat account during the event (uf1853).

Take part in one of the few traditions shared by every medical school in the country and join students from the class of 2016 as they embark on the next chapter of their lives.

CTSI Opportunities
PRICE-CTSI-IOA Pilot Project Awards in Pain and Aging Research

The UF Pain Research & Intervention Center of Excellence (PRICE), the Clinical and Translational Science Institute (CTSI) and the Institute on Aging (IOA) are pleased to invite applications for pilot project awards of up to $25,000 each in support of pain and aging research. Projects must be completed within 18 months from notice of award. Applications are due May 31, 2016. It is anticipated that up to 5 awards will be made, depending on quality of submissions and budget availability.

Purpose

The PRICE-CTSI-IOA pilot grants are being offered to support the growth of patient-oriented clinical research on the topic of pain and aging across UF’s broad range of scientific disciplines. It is expected that all research supported by this RFA will provide critical preliminary data to support extramural applications.

Eligibility

Applicants must be a UF faculty member or a UF trainee (residents, fellows, postdocs) at the time funds are awarded. Priority will be given to applications from trainees and early stage investigators.

Available Funding

A total of up to $100,000 is available for projects to be funded through this RFA. Awards cannot exceed $25,000. Matching funds from other sources are encouraged.
Help us take a snapshot of our community’s health

Take a brief survey to help us identify and address county health needs

If you live in Alachua County, please take a few minutes to complete a survey that will help UF Health and other local health care partners better understand and meet the long-term health needs of the community.

The Alachua County Community Health Needs Assessment will provide us with a snapshot of our community’s overall health: It helps determine the effectiveness and efficiency of health care and identifies factors affecting the population that need attention to improve health.

The survey will be available until Friday, April 1. We’re seeking participants in two categories to answer questions: residents and health care providers, which includes any clinical care provider. Find the surveys here: www.wellFlorida.org/surveys/
Your input is crucial to UF Health, the Alachua County Health Department, the WellFlorida Council and other health systems and programs. Adults 18 and over can participate. It only takes 10-15 minutes to complete the survey and individual responses and personal information will remain confidential. General results and analysis will be available to the public.

At the end of this survey, participants can enter a drawing to win a $50 Visa gift card. Please complete this survey only once. Completing it multiple times will not increase your chances of winning a VISA gift card.
Zika virus resources on the Bridge

Access the latest information about the Zika virus on the Bridge. Visit the "Emerging Issues Info & Response" page at https://bridge.ufhealth.org/response/ (easily found under "Employee Services") to view information from UF Health, the CDC and the Florida Department of Health. Please share resources with your colleagues and feel free to print the fact sheets or share links with your patients as needed.
