Nationally known orthopaedist selected as chief medical officer for UF Health Shands

C. Parker Gibbs Jr., M.D., UF College of Medicine orthopaedic surgery division chief and Eugene L. Jewett professor of orthopaedic surgery, has been named chief medical officer for UF Health Shands. In his new role, Gibbs will oversee medical staff practicing within UF Health Shands and will continue to provide a framework for a culture of safety and measurement of the quality of care by physicians and other clinicians. He also will represent UF Health Shands in physician recruitment, credentialing, discipline and continuing medical education, and will continue as an active, practicing member of the medical staff.

We would like to thank and honor Timothy C. Flynn, M.D., as he steps down as chief medical officer for UF Health Shands Hospital. His contributions over six years in this administrative leadership role has established a strong foundation for our hospital system. He will continue in his role as senior associate dean for clinical affairs.

Tours for Faculty

The College of Medicine is now offering HSC campus tours for interested faculty. Encourage your new (or any interested) colleagues to join faculty council tour guides to see what’s here and how to get there!

Please email Hamleen Gregoire at hamleen@ufl.edu to register for a tour.

Tours will be offered every Monday at 10am and Tuesday at 4pm.

Join us as we salute our ShandsCair team for 35 years of outstanding dedication and service to the region.
Rally the entire family to the ShandsCair Hangar for a fun-filled day of activities!

- Watch a helicopter fly-in and see other emergency vehicles on-site
- Sit in a helicopter cockpit
- Sound an ambulance alarm

When: Saturday, Nov. 5, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Where: ShandsCair Hangar 2101 SW 16th Ave.

NIH Loan Repayment Programs (LRP) Application Cycle is NOW OPEN!

The application cycle opens this year on September 1 and closes on November 15. Now is the ideal time to inform your colleagues about the many benefits of the LRP.

Approximately 1,500 researchers benefit from the more than $70 million the NIH invests each year.

Participants in the NIH Loan Repayment Programs (LRPs) receive up to $70,000 of qualified educational debt repayment with a two-year contract.

Please forward this email to anyone who may be interested in the Programs.

Thank you for your continued support of the NIH Loan Repayment Programs!
Introduction to REDCap

This lecture and demonstration provides a basic overview of the Research Electronic Data Capture (REDCap) system; how REDCap can speed time to database creation and deployment; best practices; and provides a general overview of its many powerful data collection and management features. This course is directed towards new users or those with little experience in using REDCap. NOTE: These course sections cover the same material as previous sections so new attendees will be given priority.

Flu vaccinations events continue

Beginning Oct. 31, staff and volunteers working in or supporting clinical areas are required to get vaccinated and wear this year’s badge sticker, or opt-out and wear a surgical mask. Throughout October, UF Health Shands Occupational Health Services (OHS) and the UF Student Health Care Center (SHCC) will continue to provide flu vaccinations at the UF Health Shands Hospital Atrium and UF Health Shands Cancer Hospital. When both OHS and SHCC are on-site at vaccination events, all UF faculty, staff and students; UF Health Shands employees and volunteers; and credentialed ARNPs, physician assistants and medical staff can receive a no-cost flu vaccination. Please bring your employee ID badge and insurance card. Visit bridge.UFHealth.org/flu to view all vaccination events.

Biomedical research scientists face numerous challenges early in their career. This seminar series is designed to provide practical advice for PhD and dual degree scientists who will be managing and leading research teams of their own. The target audience is postdoctoral research trainees, advanced graduate students, and junior faculty. These seminars are designed to complement the book "Making the Right Moves: A Practical Guide to Scientific Management for Postdocs and New Faculty", which is available online from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute at:

Superior Accomplishment Awards - Nominate Today!

According to the SAA Committee member manual, "This Awards program recognizes those who contribute outstanding and meritorious service in their fields. This program also recognizes those employees who have made exceptional contributions to the University of Florida's efficiency and/or economy or to the quality of life it provides for students and employees."

That quote summarizes anything we could tell you about the intent or goals of the awards and corresponding committee. We're looking to identify, acknowledge and honor the people we work with every day who do their best to go above-and-beyond to ensure forward momentum and productivity for our College and University. You have the opportunity to aide us in this process by creating a nomination packet to highlight a deserving individual. After all, as the manual says, "Recognition by one's peers is the highest point of achievement. This is the basis of the Staff and Faculty Superior Accomplishment Awards Program."

Here's what you need to know:

- Timeline - packets must be submitted by Monday, October 31, 2016.
- Who is eligible to be a nominee for an SAA - any non-chair/director (or above) faculty member or permanent staff member with at least a 75% FTE who has been employed at UF for the full academic year under consideration (Aug 1, 2015-July 31, 2016).
- Who can nominate - anyone; faculty members, OPS staff, permanent staff, students, patients, community stakeholders, etc. can serve as nominators. *Caveat: self-nominations will not be accepted.
- Where to get more information and/or a nomination packet - nominations MUST be on the official nomination forms, which can be found at http://hr.ufl.edu/learn-grow/awards-recognition/superior-accomplishment-awards/.

Calling all employee artists!

Do you work at UF Health and have a passion for photography? If so, you are invited to submit your original work to be considered for display in the new heart and neuro hospitals opening in 2017. We're looking for natural landscapes that feature the following:

- Horizons
- Open spaces
- Trees
- Low growth (flowers, bushes or tall grasses)
- Skies with fair weather
- Fresh water
- Very few, if any, man-made objects or buildings

Submissions are due by Nov. 1, 2016

Please visit artsinmedicine.UFHealth.org for details regarding evidence-based art, submission image size, copyright and other information before emailing your digital files (JPEG or TIFF only) to Mullen at Never miss your shuttle!

App tracks on-campus bus routes

TransLoc Rider helps riders plan travel

Patients, visitors and staff who seek care or work on our Archer Road campuses no longer have to miss a shuttle or withstand the unpredictable Florida elements while waiting for one.

Transloc Rider, a convenient and user-friendly app, tracks UF Health Shands shuttle routes to provide convenience and safety to riders. Accessed online or on mobile devices, it displays when the shuttles are going to arrive at stops. It can be downloaded on Apple, Android and other platforms. Once the app is added, routes are displayed in different colors. You can even see bus icons moving along the routes.

Features include stop locations, expected arrival times and each shuttle's capacity.

Visit your app store and download the TransLoc app today, or see the shuttle routes online here:

Upcoming HSC Library Workshops

The Health Science Center Library will offer the following workshops over the next month, independent of registered coursework and open to all.

Please register at least 24 hours in advance by clicking on the desired workshop link below or at:

Introduction to Systematic Reviews

Wednesday, October 26, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3

This workshop covers steps in the process of conducting the literature searches that serve as the foundation of a high-quality systematic review. It defines and gives examples of the tasks involved: term harvesting, snowballing, tracking results, identifying/locating relevant grey literature.

Medical Terminology

Part 3: Thursday, October 27, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41C

Basics of medical terminology. Key concepts and word building, as well as the basics of body structure, including cells, tissues, organs and body planes will be covered.

Parts 1, 2 and 3 make up a single 6-hour course. Attendees should plan to attend all three sessions in order to complete the training.

NIH Public Access Policy

Monday, October 24, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A

This workshop provides an introduction to the NIH Public Access Policy and demonstrates how to fulfill compliance requirements. We will cover how to use My Bibliography and the NIH Manuscript Submission System and discuss the various approaches of journal publishers towards compliance. Attendees are encouraged to bring their eRA Commons login and a list of their NIH-funded articles along with a mobile laptop or tablet so that they can follow 'hands-on'.
