Richard S. Schofield MD, FACC, Professor, Department of Medicine, who serves as the Chief of the Medical Service for the North Florida-South Georgia Veterans Health System, was appointed national Director of Cardiology Service and Specialty Care Services within the Office of Patient Care Services, Veterans Affairs Central Office in Washington, D.C., for the Veterans Health Administration. Dr. Schofield previously led the Cardiology Section at the Malcom Randall VA Medical Center. He is a fellow of the American College of Cardiology and the American Heart Association and is board certified in internal medicine, cardiovascular diseases, and advanced heart failure and heart transplantation.

Celebrating our Medical Interpreters

Each year, UF Health Shands provides interpretation services to thousands of patients and their families with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) and hearing-impairment. Three full-time medical interpreters ensure accurate communication with Spanish-speaking patients, while a 24-7 phone translation service is available for individuals who speak languages other than Spanish. These services give a voice to those who don't speak English.

In honor of International Translation Day, we're celebrating our team of medical interpreters! Stop by the following events to learn how interpretation services helps ensure accurate communication and high-quality, compassionate care.

Medical interpreter presentation:

- When: Thursday, Sept. 8 at 1 p.m.
- Where: UF Health Shands Hospital (north campus), room 6120

Atrium celebration:

- When: Friday, Sept. 30 - all day
- Where: UF Health Shands Hospital (north campus) Atrium

Flu vaccinations Available Sept. 7
Starting Sept. 7, UF Health Shands Occupational Health Services (OHS) and the UF Student Health Care Center (SHCC) will team up to provide flu vaccinations at the UF Health Shands Hospital Atrium and UF Health Shands Cancer Hospital - Room 1205. When both OHS and SHCC are on-site at flu vaccination events, all UF faculty, staff and students; UF Health Shands employees and volunteers; and credentialed ARNPs, physician assistants and medical staff can receive a no-cost flu vaccination. Please bring your ID badge and insurance card. Visit bridge.ufhealth.org/flu to view all flu vaccination events. Thank you for doing your part to keep our patients, and each other, safe.

New Video Series Addresses Recent Quality Reports

"In the Q" is a new video series that features quality-improvement information, patient safety updates and other news to help us provide the best possible experience for our patients. Randy Harmatz, M.B.A., UF Health Clinical Quality and Patient Safety senior vice president and chief quality officer, kicks off the series with a segment about publicly reported quality data and recent quality reports about UF Health Shands. Watch the first episode here: https://bridge.ufhealth.org/blog/leader/in-the-q-publicly-reported-data/

HSC Library Fall Workshops

The Health Science Center Library will offer the following workshops this term, independent of registered coursework and open to all.

Please register at least 24 hours in advance by clicking on the desired workshop link below or at:

Best Practices in Research Data Management
Tuesday, October 4, 1-2pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41C

Learn practical strategies for best managing your research data. A number of U.S. funding agencies such as the National Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health require researchers to supply plans for managing research data, called Data Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health require researchers to supply plans for managing research data, called Data Management Plans (DMP), for all new grant proposals. This workshop will provide an overview of the questions to consider when creating a data management plan, with a focus on the DMPTool and tools for sharing your data at the University of Florida (e.g. subject-specific repositories). Topics include metadata and annotation, file formats and organization, storage, backups and security, and data sharing. The workshop is geared toward graduate students, faculty, and researchers.

Consumer Health on the Web (for Healthcare Professionals)
Monday, October 10, 10am-11am, Communicore Building Room C2-3
This workshop is designed to teach healthcare professionals about health information resources that are freely available online and designed to be understood by the average person. In this workshop, students will learn about some of the most popular and trustworthy websites that they can recommend to patients, friends, and family, such as MedlinePlus and ClinicalTrials.gov. In addition, they will learn tips and trips for telling the difference between good and bad sources of health information online.

EndNote
Tuesday, September 27, 9am-10am, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Wednesday, October 19, 1-2pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Tuesday, November 8, 1-2pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Thursday, December 8, 9-10am, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Come and see what you can do with EndNote, a program designed to help you organize your reference citations. You will learn how to create and navigate the EndNote libraries, enter individual citations, and search/retrieve citations from EndNote, as well as how to download citations from PubMed, library catalogs, other databases, and import them into your library. We will learn how to use the 'Cite While You Write' toolbar and different ways of inserting citations into your papers for publication. It's easy to generate a bibliography according to the style of any particular journal! This class focuses on the desktop version of EndNote and addresses some unique features of EndNote Online.

Evidence-Based and Grey Literature Sources and Search Tips
Wednesday, November 2, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Learn about several evidence-based literature and gray literature databases. Tips on how and where to find evidence-based publications in PubMed, other health profession-specific evidence databases (as enrollment dictates), the Cochrane databases and clinical trials databases. To balance possible publication bias in peer-reviewed journal articles, the class will also familiarize you with several sources of grey literature (conference papers, dissertations, reports.)

Introduction to CINAHL
Monday, September 12, 10am-11am, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Wednesday, October 12, 3pm-4pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Looking for an introduction to the premier database of nursing and allied health literature? This class introduces you to basic and advanced search options; performing more accurate searches using CINAHL headings; using limits to narrow and refine your search; printing, emailing, and exporting your citations; creating a personal account to store your citations; and finding full-text articles.

Introduction to Systematic Reviews
Tuesday, September 20, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
Wednesday, October 26, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3
This workshop covers steps in the process of conducting the literature searches that serve as the foundation of a high-quality systematic review. It defines and gives examples of the tasks involved: term harvesting, snowballing, tracking results, identifying/locating relevant grey literature.

Medical Terminology
Part 1: Thursday, October 13, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41C
Part 2: Thursday, October 20, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41C
Part 3: Thursday, October 27, 1-3pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41C

Basics of medical terminology. Key concepts and word building, as well as the basics of body structure, including cells, tissues, organs and body planes will be covered. Parts 1, 2 and 3 make up a single 6-hour course. Attendees should plan to attend all three sessions in order to complete the training.

Mobile Resources for Health
_Tuesday, September 20th 1-2pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A_
Looking for high-quality mobile apps to help you in your work? In this session, we will provide brief overviews of a number of mobile apps for clinical work, research, teaching and learning, and productivity. We will also include tips on how to get mobile access to library-subscribed journals and databases.

NIH Public Access Policy
_Monday, October 24, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-41A_
This workshop provides an introduction to the NIH Public Access Policy and demonstrates how to fulfill compliance requirements. We will cover how to use My Bibliography and the NIH Manuscript Submission System and discuss the various approaches of journal publishers towards compliance. Attendees are encouraged to bring their eRA Commons login and a list of their NIH-funded articles along with a mobile laptop or tablet so that they can follow 'hands-on'.

PubMed
_Wednesday, September 14, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3_
_Wednesday, October 19, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3_
This class will take you step-by-step through effective literature search and save techniques-starting smartly, limiting efficiently without losing "good stuff", searching for specific info (authors, types of publications, specific journals) and refining your search. Depending on participant interests/needs and time, we may also cover setting up email alerts, transferring to bibliographic software like RefWorks or EndNote, filtering for evidence-based studies, building collections within PubMed or other functions within PubMed.

Web of Science
_Wednesday, September 28, 12pm-1pm, Communicore Building Room C2-3_
Compiling a bibliography? Trying to find interdisciplinary materials that fall between the sciences and the social sciences? Then search the Web of Science! Learn keyword and author searching while exploring this database's ability to move backward and forward through reference lists. Determine what sources were used in writing a given article and what subsequent publications cited that particular article. Find related articles that cite several of the same references in their bibliographies.

Did you Know?

The Process Has Changed for a GatorLink Password Reset

The GatorLink password reset process changed this summer when the system was upgraded. This upgrade is important for faculty to know about: With an added layer of security, a verification code is now sent to your cell phone or an automated call is sent to your home phone number when resetting your GatorLink password. The verification code is entered to complete a self-service password reset.

Your teaching or research could be interrupted if your current home phone or personal/work cell phone number is not in your myUFL Directory Profile. A trip to the UF Computing Help Desk (132 Hub) will then be required to reset your account. UFIT strongly urges every faculty member to log in to myUFL and confirm that their current home phone or current personal/work cell phone numbers are listed in their Directory Profile, especially if they’ll be traveling or on sabbatical, away from Gainesville. Here’s the bread crumb path to check your Directory profile and update your information: my.ufl.edu > Main Menu > My Account > Update My Directory Profile.
